Lisa Daftari is an award-winning investigative journalist focusing on foreign affairs with expertise in the Middle East and counterterrorism. She regularly appears on television and radio with commentary and analysis, providing exclusive reporting on vital developments in the region. Currently, she is an on-air Fox News political analyst and has previously been featured on CBS, NBC, PBS, the Washington Post, NPR, ABC, Voice of America, and others.

Lisa has been interviewed in Spanish, English and Persian. Lisa's areas of expertise and coverage include the Middle East and North Africa, terrorism, national security, the Arab Spring, global Christian persecution, human rights, cyber security and more.

Lisa was invited to show her documentary film about an Iranian underground political movement in Congress. She frequently is called upon to give briefs and expert testimony for government and private entities. Lisa has worked for a number of think tanks in Washington, where she has written exclusive reports for the Pentagon and other government groups. Before joining Fox, Lisa worked as a producer in the investigative unit at NBC in LA.

Bijan Khalili was born in an Iranian-Jewish-Kurdish family in 1951. He earned his B.S. degree in Civil Engineering from Pahlavi University in 1974. Like many new Iranian immigrants, Bijan has resided in Los Angeles, since 1980. He co-founded Ketab Corp. in early 1981 and now serves as its President. In November 1999, Bijan married Pirayeh Shaban, who has been a true partner in all of his business ventures and shares his beliefs and aspirations. Bijan's passion for Iranian socio-cultural, and literary heritage has made him a spokesman for Iranian identity and minorities. His Ketab Co. has become a platform and landmark for activities with regard to Iran and the Iranian community, both inside Iran and in the Diaspora. In addition to the establishment of the first Persian bookstore in USA (1981) his other contributions include:

The publication of Iranian Yellow pages (1981); Iranian Information Center (1981); Iranian Pocket Book Directory (1987); Telephone & Directory Network (1988); www.08.net and www.ketab.com web sites; Iranian Jewish Calendar, publication of Iranshahr magazine (1995); and Iranshahr News Agency.com (2014).

Ketab Corp. Iranian Yellow Pages received the 1992 APPY Gold Award for marketing innovation. Ketab Corp. 08 services received the APPY Bronze Award for community services as a result of its assistance to the Iranian community during the Los Angeles earthquake of January, 1994.
